THIRTY-FOURTH ANNUAL REPORT

— OF THE —

TRUSTEES OF THE PEABODY INSTITUTE.

In presenting their thirty-fourth Annual Report, the Trustees can congratulate the Town upon the continued prosperity of this valuable and noble Institution which is entrusted to their care.

The board met and organized and appointed the required Committees of their number in March, 1885; and also chose the Lyceum and Library Committee, and the Janitor. The names of the officers and Committees, etc., will be found on the previous pages.

Action was also taken then with a view to securing an improved condition of the lot where Mr. Peabody's remains lie buried in Harmony Grove Cemetery. The President of this Board was appointed a Committee to attend to it, and we have to thank members of Mr. Peabody's family in Philadelphia, not only that they have caused the lot to be put in good condition, but that they have, in a letter just received, signified their desire to perpetually endow the lot by placing in the keeping of this Board a fund for that purpose.

We shall be able to report more fully upon this matter in our next Annual Report.

In April, $4400 was appropriated for the use of the Lyceum and Library Committee, which was $1200 more than the previous year. This increase has enabled the committee to purchase 528 more books than in 1884, and there have been three more lectures given. All of this course of lectures have been given in the Institute Hall, which seems to be the proper place for them ; the accommodation appears to have been ample.

In February, 1886, at the final meeting of the Institute year, the reports of the Treasurer, and the Lyceum and Library Committee were received and accepted, and are herewith submitted, as are also the reports of its sub-committees.

A Committee of three members of this Board was appointed to consider the matter of reseating the Hall and to report at the next annual meeting.

In 1870 our income-yielding property was as follows :—

Real Estate and Invested Funds	$110,300 00
Reserved Fund	20,000 00
Eben Dale Sutton Reference Library Fund	20,000 00
High School Medal Fund	2,000 00
	<hr/>
	$152,300 00

In 1886 our income-yielding property was as follows :—

Real Estate and Invested Funds	$121,797 00
Reserved Fund	42,643 26
Eben Dale Sutton Reference Library Fund	20,000 00
High School Medal Fund	2,000 00
	$186,440 26

An historical sketch of the Institute from the time of its foundation to the present, in a not too lengthy form, would be of interest and value, but the time allowed the writer of our annual report is too short to accomplish it now.

During the year all the oil paintings have been carefully cleaned and varnished, which has brought out the original colors and again shown them in fresh appearance.

The whole internal management of the Institute, as to its libraries and lectures, rests upon the Lyceum and Library Committee by Mr. Peabody's expressed direction; while the Trustees hold the power to annually appoint them and have charge of all the real and personal estate.

The Trustees never fail to find those among us who are willing and able workers in this good cause, and whose zeal and energy have brought credit upon that committee. Membership on the Committee is not only an honorable appointment, but is a most responsible one, and should be so considered by every member, who should prove his interest in the work by regular attendance upon the meetings.

The Committee are fortunate in securing at the head of our library a gentleman who is an earnest believer in the value of the Institute in a high sense for good to every citizen, and who is willing to lend encouraging aid to those who may seek advice in the selection of their books, when it is possible for such to be given. His report, herewith submitted, is instructive reading, and all that he says and quotes in regard to the intimate relations that should exist between this Institute and the Public Schools, need only be thoughtfully read to be fully appreciated.

There is no more difficult part in any system of education than is the directing the minds of our children so that they shall be turned to best advantage during the hours of recreation. In many schools the teachers, or some of them, pass their recess time in company with their pupils, guiding them in their games, and becoming familiarized with their characters, which must assist in the schoolroom to the advantage of both teacher and pupil.

Of the Eben Dale Sutton Reference Library too much cannot be said in praise of this valuable and well planned department, which will cause the name of Mrs. Eliza Sutton to be ever cherished by our citizens. The value of a reference library can never be gauged by the number of people who seek its shelves. It is in the fact that volumes are there deposited of such value, as to contents and price, that it would usually be deemed unadvisable, and more often impossible, to secure them for a more general library. In such a library, only, with well filled shelves would it be possible for a student, an inventor, etc., to find information which would serve as a connecting link between hard study and that success which might prove of real and lasting benefit to many persons.

This library is a foundation that grows quietly, and is more and more appreciated and sought out as time rolls on. Such a library will always be well known, even beyond the limits of Town and County and rank as of national importance, more especially perhaps among students, but will not fail to draw towards it the more modest and quiet reader. She, who established this lasting Memorial, could not have adopted a plan more permanent and enduring, in its cumulative value, than this plan of endowment.

Lists of young folks books have been carefully prepared by the librarian for use at the public schools, so that reading matter can be easily selected by the teachers for their pupils.

The fact should not be lost sight of that the arrangements to enable people to get their books out of the library speedily are very good; and in addition to this it is probable that a case for the card catalogue will soon be secured which will greatly aid and simplify the librarian's work, and therein still further lessen the time consumed in taking out books, besides having other advantages.

It is not well ever to hasten improvements much beyond the demand of the public, but certain changes, which are adopted elsewhere and which have been somewhat discussed in our own case, may be called for before many years. I refer to the opening of our library every day, except Sunday, for the same hours each day, so that a book could be secured regularly upon whatever day it might be wanted. It is believed that this would be a valuable improvement, as soon as the necessary arrangements can be made to accomplish it.

In many places the reading rooms are also opened on the afternoons of Sunday, and have been found of great value as offering quiet and instructive occupation.

All of this will undoubtedly receive the careful attention of the Lyceum and Library Committee, should it be desirable.

Should the Committee, previously referred to advise that improvements be made in the seating of our Hall, it would seem that no further change in the general arrangement of the building would be necessary beyond the ordinary annual repairs, until our shelf-room shall demand enlargement. It therefore seems to be a time when it is wise to consider whether any library improvements can be made to good advantage, and the interest in this direction that exists in this Board, and is shown in the Reports submitted by the Lyceum and Library Committee will surely bring about all that is desirable in that direction.

We would, again, refer you to these several reports, which are herewith printed, for further details in the work at the Institute, which will repay careful attention.

Respectfully submitted,

In behalf of the Trustees,

FRANCIS H. APPLETON.

REPORT OF THE LYCEUM AND LIBRARY COMMITTEE.

TO THE TRUSTEES OF THE PEABODY INSTITUTE:—

The annual report of the Library and Lyceum Committee is comprised in the reports of the Sub-Committees, the Librarian and the Treasurer to the Lyceum and Library Committee, and they are herewith submitted. It seems to be necessary, in this report to the Trustees, only to call attention to some points which merit particular notice.

The increased appropriation of the current year has enabled the Library Committee to put a much larger number of useful books upon the shelves of the Library, and the Lyceum Committee to employ more and better lecturers.

The necessity of a complete card catalogue so arranged in cases as to be accessible is growing more apparent. It will require much time and labor and some expense to accomplish it. It is expected that a beginning will be made the coming year.

The lectures of the course of 1885-6 have been given in the Institute Hall, and it is the opinion of the Committee that this Hall will for the present accommodate all who desire to attend. Some changes might be made to add to the comfort of the audience, who still try in vain to find an easy resting place upon the seats above.

The earnest words of the Librarian in regard to devising some method of directing the course of reading of the younger portion of the community deserve the most thoughtful attention, coming as they do from one who has spent so many years in successful instruction of our youth.

Respectfully submitted,

for the L. and L. Committee,

G. F. OSGOOD, Chairman.

REPORT OF THE PEABODY LIBRARY COMMITTEE.

THE COMMITTEE OF THE PEABODY LIBRARY SUBMIT THE FOLLOWING REPORT:—

The action of the Trustees, in placing at the disposal of the Committee an increased fund over that of several preceding years, has enabled them to materially strengthen the growth of the Library in its various departments. A comparison between the reports of the Librarian on accessions for 1884-5 and 1885-86 shows an increase of 501 volumes in favor of the latter year.

Our Librarian, thoroughly interested in his work, and bringing to it a knowledge acquired by experience, has secured to the reading public every advantage which the Library is capable of affording.

The introduction of the Hectograph and Cyclostyle methods of list copying, has proved beneficial, and given patrons accommodations in finding books, which few libraries afford.

A list of books suitable for use in the schools has been prepared by the Librarian. And in this connection we would call the special attention of parents and teachers to that portion of the Librarian's report, bearing on this subject.

The Reading room is rapidly growing in public favor, and proves a valuable addition to the Library. Your committee have, from time to time, made such additions to this department as their funds would allow.

The Library is much in want of some improved arrangement for preserving the Card Catalogue, and the matter of furnishing additional shelf room for future accessions of books requires immediate attention, as some departments are already crowded.

During the year three of the assistants, whose familiarity with their duties made them valuable to the Librarian and whose civility was appreciated by the public, have resigned. Their positions have been filled by others, who are performing their duties acceptably.

Respectfully submitted

for the Committee,

S. S. LITTLEFIELD.

REPORT OF THE LYCEUM COMMITTEE.

TO THE LYCEUM AND LIBRARY COMMITTEE :—

In view of the experience of the previous year at the new Town Hall, it was the judgment of this Committee that a return of the lectures to the Peabody Institute Hall was required, fully believing that the public would be sufficiently accommodated, and at the same time relieved from those inconveniences and annoyances which were apparent in the former course.

With a larger appropriation the number of lectures has been increased and the Committee have been enabled to make engagements with lecturers who have not been available before on account of insufficient funds. The attendance has been large considering the inclemency of the weather on many of the evenings. The interest has been well sustained and a general satisfaction with the course has been manifest.

The following is the list of lectures for 1885-6.

- Nov. 12, Hon. Wm. Parsons. Subject, Masters of the Situation.
- Nov. 19, Geo. H. Hartwell. Subject, Civilized Electricity.
- Nov. 24, Nella F. Brown. Subject, Miscellaneous Readings.
- Dec. 3, Alban Andren. Subject, Norway.

Dec. 10, Prof. W. C. Richards. Subject, The Philosophy and Poetry of Flame.

Dec. 17, W. I. Marshall. Subject, Utah.

Dec. 22, Will Carleton. Subject, The Golden Horse.

Dec. 31, Harry W. French. Subject, Picturesque Mountains of America.

Jan. 7, Major Henry C. Dane. Subject, The Great Naval Battles of the Rebellion.

Jan. 14, H. H. Ragan. Subject, Venice, Milan and the Italian Lakes.

Jan. 21, Prof. James F. Babcock. Subject, Basket of Charcoal.

Jan. 28, Hon. George R. Wendling. Subject, Hamlet and his Interpreters.

Feb. 4, Dr. James Hedley. Subject, The Sunny Side of Life.

Respectfully submitted,

G. M. FOSTER,

Chairman of Lyceum Committee.

LIBRARIAN'S REPORT.

TO THE LYCEUM AND LIBRARY COMMITTEE :—

The report of the Librarian for the year ending Feb. 1, 1886, is respectfully submitted.

It will be seen by the statistics in this report that the last spring's appropriation enabled the Committee to add largely to the Library.

During the past year many readers have availed themselves of the rule allowing books for study and reference to be used for four weeks, and much satisfaction has been expressed in consequence.

A new device for multiplying copies, the Cyclostyle, has taken the place of the Hectograph, and by means of it three hundred pages of lists of the books added the last two years have been prepared for the use of the Library and one hundred pages of a list of Young folks' books for the use of the schools.

On the borrowers' tables are placed as many catalogues and finding lists as they will conveniently hold and a reserve of two copies of each of the catalogues and finding lists are at hand if needed. All these have been carefully revised so that, as far as possible, the worn out books are denoted by colored marks. A complete revised Catalogue and finding list is kept at the delivery desk. It is believed that in no library are better facilities for ascertaining the titles and numbers of the books.

The Librarian, as well as many others in the community, has for years been convinced that the Library might be more serviceable to the younger portion of the community, and he would have been glad to have afforded more assistance than he has been able to do. In most Libraries of the size of ours a permanent assistant is employed competent to do a portion of the clerical work now entirely done by the writer of this. The Library hours are not long enough to do all the clerical work needed here and most of that work is done at other times. In Somerville last week a sub-committee of the School Committee was chosen to prepare lists of books suitable for school children; in other places the teachers go to the Library and select books for their pupils or else make up lists for the same.

In some towns and cities an extra appropriation is made for the purchase of extra copies of illustrative works for school use to be spent under the direction of the Library officers and charged and delivered to teachers who are held responsible for their return.

Some plan could probably be devised so that with the co-operation of the teachers and School committee the children should be directed in the use of such books in this Library as would be of permanent advantage and of much more service in every respect than is now obtained from skimming over half a dozen books a week.

Should an earnest endeavor on the part of all concerned be manifested, it would be necessary for the Library to be provided with a case to contain all the catalogue cards belonging to it; so that they can be accessible for the purpose of grouping each class by itself and so that finding lists could be prepared for the use of the schools and a guide for all. Besides, a portion of the cards from which the 1872 catalogue was printed will need to be re-written at some future time.

This will be closed by an extract from a lecture by Jas. M. Hubbard, printed in the Library Journal for 1885, pp. 26, a lecture which is worthy of being reprinted and circulated in every community.

“ If the public library is to be in fact, what it is in theory, an educating power second only to the church and the school, and supplementing the work of both, there must be some method devised by which such readers as these may be helped to choose the right books. Without such aid given continually and systematically, the Library fails in the principal ends for which it was founded—the elevation and instruction of the people.

We might as well turn our children into a school house fully furnished with books and apparatus, but with only a janitor to see that no injury was done to them and expect the children to make a wise use of their opportunities, to take up and pursue the proper studies without the aid of a master, as to give children the free range of a large Library and expect them undirected to make a wise use of its advantages as a means of education.

It is, therefore, in my opinion, a most pernicious error to encourage young people to come to a Library, and to give them poor stories in a mistaken belief that, the taste for reading being developed, they will naturally and surely rise from these to better books."

Gifts of books have been received from the following named donors during the past year :

Hon. Eben F. Stone, 15 volumes ; The Secretary of the Interior Department, 11 volumes ; Smithsonian Institution, five volumes ; U. S. Commissioner of Education, seven volumes, and unbound circulars of information ; The Secretary of Massachusetts, seven volumes ; Hon. H. W. Blair, four volumes ; J. W. Upton, two volumes ; and the Board of Agriculture, Kansas, the Secretary of the U. S. Treasury Department, Baltimore Peabody Institute, Trustees of Lynn Public Library, Trustees of Cincinnati Public Library, Trustees Beverly Library, Messrs. F. H. Appleton, Charles F. Adams, Jr., Geo. B. Loring, C. H. Coffin, J. W. Leeds, W. Wood & Co., Carroll B. Wright, J. G. Dalton, Andrew F. Wiggin, one volume each.

Masters Hill, Hutchinson and Taylor, who were connected with the Library as assistants, the first two for a long time, have left for more lucrative positions. These were most faithful in their work here, and the patrons of the Library and all concerned in its management testify to their uniform courtesy and ability.

Our worthy Janitor, as usual, is attentive to and efficient in all his duties.

With many thanks for the cordial co-operation of all concerned in the management of the Library, this report is respectfully submitted by

J. WARREN UPTON,

Librarian.
